“ Remembering a high school classmate, Marty Rohwedder! I love what his family said in his obituary, that Marty marched to his own drummer! That is so true and he made no excuses for it. Marty liked to engage people in conversations about things that mattered to him and spoke the truth, sometimes to the point of making one take a closer look at themselves. And I for one, enjoyed a good laugh now and then with him. We will miss you Marty. I will miss you keeping me on my toes, because I was never sure what topic you would bring up and would I know anything about it. The VCHS Class of 77 will always remember you!

“ We would like to express our sincere condolences to you and your family. With deep sympathy, we share your sorrow, after the tears have dried and the goodbyes have been said, all we have to hold onto are the happy memories that we've shared with our loved ones who have passed, this is what keeps them alive in our hearts and in our minds, and they will continue to live on, through us. May God give you the strength to endure the pain you are going through and may he embrace you and comfort your family during this difficult time."Jesus said to her: 'I am the resurrection and the life. The one who exercises faith in me, even though he dies, will come to life.'"-John 11:25

“ Marty was a special kind of friend. I doubt I'll ever meet anyone quite like Marty. We shared an interest in music few even understand. Marty was a fountain of knowage I often learned from.. He used to walk is dog every day to the 10 Commandments at the auditorium then stop at my store to offer his help and visit about music stuff mostly. I'm so sorry I missed his service.. It would be important to me to visit with his brothers about the things Marty and I did together, what we visited about, and the stuff we had in common.
