“ My husband, Charles, and I got to know Don and Dorothy when we all were involved in The Gideon organization. Such a warm and welcoming couple they were to us when we joined. They knew their Bible and were not afraid to share their knowledge. I remember Dorothy being a quiet person, but get her alone she shared her story. Thank you for the memories. My thoughts and prayer to the Boom family. Estelle Hanson Valley City, ND

“ I live in michigan and so I didn't always get to see my aunt Dorothy, we only came out once on vacation to ND and stayed on the farm when I was little. Aunt Dorothy always made us feel welcome. When my grandparents Gerrit and Nellie were having health issues, grandpa the start if dementia and they could no longer stay in their assisted living home, they needed more care, aunt Dorothy came out in the summer and stayed at my parents.(Betty and Jack Vandermay) I had moved out by now. But came into town to see her and we took her for a boat ride around west lake and dinner at West lake drive-in for their famous olive burgers. We laughed alot and had so much fun, your mom was such a blessing that visit and so much laughter. I got to truly know her and enjoyed every moment. I am thankful for that. She was always kind and had a smile on her face.

“ We wish we could be with your today as you celebrate Dorothy's life and her graduation into her heavenly home.

One word that seems to summarize Dorothy's life is faithful.

Everyone will remember the many, many years of playing the organ at North Marion church.

My first memories of Dorothy was when she was a new bride. Right after she and my brother Don were married they moved into the farm house with my mother and dad and me. Not exactly what every new bride would dream of. They lived together there for about 4 years and I can not think of any harsh words that were spoken between them. They seemed to get along quite well.

Later, after Don and Dorothy moved to Marion and as my mother needed additional help, Dorothy was always there to help her with doctor visits and organizing her medication as well as faithfully visiting her. She was a faithful daughter-in-law to my mother.

She is now experiencing the joys of heaven and reaping the rewards of her life of service on earth. -Joanne (Boom) Harthoorn
