“ Dorothy was a very loving daughter to her mother, she took very good care of her and was very affectionate towards her, she had a home with Dorothy for many years. Dorothy loved her family she used to call me her little brother and "Hankster" her big brother. She was very giving had a real passion for flowers and animals. She and Walter both were very giving to family and friends, if this world had more people like her what a wonderful place this would be.
